Outcomes

- The professional development of teachers plays a leading role in learning advanced innovative pedagogical skills to teach students in classrooms about modern trends.
- The University of Sufism and Modern Sciences started to train teachers and students by conducting seminars, internships, and training sessions with various universities' collaboration on land and abroad. Trainers highlight various projects for teachers to uplift their knowledge and skills.
- The training was very informative to get U.S.A. funding for different projects and scholarships for further studies. Different websites were recommended during the training session, like Fulbright and grant.gov.
- Scholarship, Fellowship and Funding Grants in the U.S.A., their procedure, age limit, and criteria were discussed as it was helpful for anyone looking for Higher Education programs, including Masters and Ph.D.
